The Great California ShakeOut organized and carried out by the Earthquake Country Alliance – earthquake professionals, emergency responders, business leaders, and community activists across the state – led by Southern California Earthquake Center, U.S. Geological Survey, California Emergency Management Agency, California Earthquake Authority, Federal Emergency Management Agency, California Institute of Technology, State Farm Insurance, California Department of Education, American Red Cross, Redwood Coast Tsunami Working Group, Bay Area Earthquake Alliance, Central Coast Earthquake Alliance, Southern California Earthquake Alliance, and many more across the state.
ShakeOut Highlights (Narrative):

Are You Ready to ShakeOut?
With 37 million people living and working in California, a major earthquake could cause unprecedented devastation. What we do now, before a big earthquake, will determine what our lives will be like afterwards. With earthquakes an inevitable part of California’s future, we must act quickly to ensure that disasters do not become catastrophes.

The Great Southern California ShakeOut in November 2008 involved nearly 5.5 million Californians through a broad-based outreach program, media partnerships, and public advocacy by hundreds of partners. In early 2009 the decision was made to hold the drill statewide annually on the third Thursday of October. With this in mind, the Earthquake Country Alliance has organized the 2009 Great California ShakeOut, a statewide earthquake drill at 10:15 AM on October 15.

A key aspect of the ShakeOut is the integration of comprehensive science-based earthquake research and the lessons learned from decades of social science research about why people get prepared. The result is a “teachable moment” on par with having an actual earthquake (often followed by increased interest in getting ready for earthquakes). ShakeOut creates the sense of urgency that is needed for people, organizations, and communities to get prepared, to practice what to do to be safe, and to learn what plans need to be improved.

Not just any drill will accomplish this; it needs to be big. It must inspire communities to come together. It must involve children at school and parents at work, prompting conversations at home. It must allow every organization, city, etc., to make it their own event.

The 2009 ShakeOut drill will be the largest preparedness event in U.S. history. To participate, go to www.ShakeOut.org/register and pledge your family, school, business, government agency or organization’s participation in the drill. Registered participants will receive information on how to plan their drill and how to create a dialogue with others about earthquake preparedness. All organizers ask is that participants register (so they can be counted and receive communications), and at the minimum practice "Drop, Cover, and Hold On" at the specified time. It is only a three minute commitment for something that can save your life. It all begins with registering, which is free and open to everyone.

For more information or to register, visit www.ShakeOut.org. If you are a member of the Spanish-speaking community, you can register at www.ShakeOut.org/espanol.

ShakeOut Drill Description and Details
ShakeOut Drill

Why have the ShakeOut Drill?

With over 36 million people living and working in California, a major earthquake in any of its regions could cause an unprecedented catastrophe with statewide impacts. With earthquakes an inevitable part of California’s future, Californians must act quickly to ensure that disasters do not become catastrophes. The ShakeOut drill, a massive earthquake drill at 10:15 a.m. on October 15, 2009, centers a recent forecast which states that California has a 99.7% chance of having a magnitude 6.7 or larger earthquake during the next 30 years. With more than 6 million registered already, the ShakeOut drill will be the largest in U.S. history. The ShakeOut Drill gives residents an opportunity to practice quake-safe actions during the drill so they will act quickly and correctly when a real earthquake strikes.

How can people participate?

To participate, go to www.ShakeOut.org to register. There are many ways to take part in the ShakeOut drill, but at the least participants should “Drop, Cover, and Hold On” at 10:15 a.m. on October 15. To Drop, Cover, and Hold On people should:

- DROP to the ground (before the earthquake drops you!),
- Take COVER by getting under a sturdy desk or table, and
- HOLD ON to it until the shaking stops.

Additional details and suggested drill actions, including multi-level ShakeOut Drill Manuals (from simple to advanced) are customized for various groups and available at www.shakeout.org/resources/.

Audio and Video recordings to be played during the drill are at www.ShakeOut.org/drill/broadcast

How long does the ShakeOut Drill last?

The actual drill will only take three minutes, the length of strong ground motions from a major earthquake. People can participate in just the drill, but even better is to imagine how the environment will shake during this earthquake and plan other steps to make your home, office, school safer from this type of event. Go to www.shakeout.org/whyparticipate/ for more ideas on “What can I do?”

Why Drop, Cover, and Hold On?

The main point is to not try to move but to immediately protect yourself as best as possible where you are. Earthquakes occur without any warning and may be so violent that you cannot run or crawl; you therefore will most likely be knocked to the ground where you happen to be. You will never know if the initial jolt will turn out to be start of the big one, so Drop, Cover, and Hold On to be on the safe side.

* ShakeOut Drill Broadcast

Audio and video recordings are available for download in order to play during the ShakeOut Drill. Participants will be able to hear instructions on Drop, Cover and Hold On, and experience the extended length of time that the shaking would last during this type of real earthquake. Some of these products include a realistic earthquake “rumble.” All products are available in English or Spanish.

The drill broadcasts are all available for download at: www.ShakeOut.org/drill/tv
We suggest that selected files be downloaded and tested before the drill.

“Preparedness Now” USGS & Art Center Film

Updated for 2009: Up-and-coming film director, motion graphics designer, and Art Center College of Design alumnus, Theo Alexopoulos, takes Southern Californians on a visceral journey for the ShakeOut Scenario. The film was created by the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) Multi-Hazards Demonstration Project to depict the physical, social, and economic consequences of the most comprehensive earthquake scenario ever created. The film gives the viewers a sense of what will be happening in Southern California and inspires them to prepare and mitigate for a faster recovery. An underlying purpose of the film is, through the use of art design, to bridge the divide between scientific understanding about damaging quakes and the ability of the public to feel empowered to change their behavior towards preparedness.

The film is now available for viewing on YouTube or for download at: http://www.shakeout.org/resources/videos.html
Southern California - USGS ShakeOut Scenario Wave Animations

USGS scientist, Brad Aagaard, provides an amazing and powerful scientific visualization of the ground motions that would be associated with the magnitude 7.8 earthquake developed for the Southern California ShakeOut Scenario. This digital animation depicts the earthquake’s impact on Southern California from various perspectives. Deep-rolling seismic waves move nearly 200 miles across the Southern California landscape, leaving a wake of devastation. For visual effect, the animation is exaggerated at 1,000 times.

These animations are available at www.shakeout.org/scenario.

Beat the Quake

To help Californians prepare for the ShakeOut Drill, a fun and informative game called Beat the Quake is now available at www.ShakeOut.org. Players must secure objects in a virtual living room before a simulated earthquake shakes and breaks those items not secured. Made with support from The Home Depot and FEMA.

Drop, Cover, and Hold On

Beat the Quake is also included on www.DropCoverHoldOn.org, a site featuring animation and "clickable steps" detailing what to do during an earthquake.
Quake Quiz SF

This game, hosted by San Francisco Emergency Management, game looks at typical environments at work, home, commuting, etc., to have users consider how to address different issues to make themselves safer. The game is accessible on the home page at www.ShakeOut.org or at www.quakequizsf.org
