Subject: The Great Montana ShakeOut

At Home Depot, we care about the well-being of our associates, families and communities. We strive to provide quality materials to make you and your homes more resilient. This is why we are proud to support The Great Montana ShakeOut.

On October 22nd, at 10:22am, hundreds of Montana Home Depot associates, along with thousands of other Montanans, will be participating in The Great Montana ShakeOut drill. Through this simple exercise to “Drop, Cover, and Hold On,” we will practice how to protect ourselves during earthquakes. Because of the unpredictable nature of earthquakes, we must be prepared for them to occur while at home, work, or shopping.

In addition to participating in the drill, we encourage you to build an emergency supply kit for you and your family. Having basic supplies will help you survive during emergencies and natural disasters. Consider keeping a second one in your car if a disaster occurs while away from home. It is our privilege to help you prepare for and bounce back from any disasters you face.

Please consider joining us by registering at www.shakeout.org/montana and preparing your emergency supply kit today.

Sincerely,

The Home Depot Associates of Montana
